

Submitted generation data that passes all system validation checks enters a 14-day holding period, at the end of which certificates are issued without any further action needed. Customers may accept or dispute the loaded data during this period. Accepting the data will trigger immediate certificate issuance. Disputing the data will prevent certificate issuance until the data is reloaded or the customer accepts it. Submitted generation data that fails one or more system validation checks cannot be accepted until the failures have been resolved.

To accept or dispute generation data —

1. Navigate to Generation and find the generation entry on the Pending tab.

Generator	WREGIS GU ID	Aggregate Group	Organization	Reporting Entity	Status	Activity Date	Period Start	Period End	Posted MWh
Agg Generator 2	W111114	-	WREGIS Main Organization	WREGIS Main Organization	In Holding Period	10/25/2022 15:18	09/01/2022	09/30/2022	5035

2. Scroll to the right and click Accept Dispute

3. Review the generation data and click Accept or Dispute as appropriate.

Generator Name	Agg Generator 2
Generator ID	W111114
Activity Date	2022-10-25
Generation Period Start	2022-09-01
Generation Period End	2022-09-30
Submit Generation Quantity	5035 MWh
Fuel Type	Wind
Fuel Source	Wind
Pending Reason	In Holding Period

Buttons: Cancel, Dispute, Accept