WSC Review of Standard Authorization Requests

On June 18, 2019, the WECC Standards Committee (WSC) will review the following Standard Authorization Requests (SAR) to determine whether these SARs are within the scope of WECC's authority and activities, and are appropriate for development.

SAR WECC-0138

On April 15, 2019, WECC received SAR WECC-0138 requesting five-year review of the WECC Regional Variance attached to PRC-006-3, Automatic Underfrequency Load Shedding. The SAR was deemed complete the same day.

The SAR does not identify any specific issues. The SAR requests general review including: 1) syntax, 2) structure, 3) use of defined terms and phrases, 4) current drafting conventions, and 5) updating of numeric thresholds, if needed.

SAR WECC-0139

On May 6, 2019, WECC received SAR WECC-0139 requesting five-year review of INT-011-WECC-CRT-3, Ten-Minute Recallable e-Tag Functionality for Operating Reserve – Supplemental. The SAR was deemed complete the same day.

The SAR does not identify any specific issues. The SAR requests general review including: 1) syntax, 2) structure, 3) use of defined terms and phrases, 4) current drafting conventions, 5) updating of numeric thresholds, if needed, and 6) review of applicable entities to include consideration of the NAESB Registered Entity as used in other WECC Criteria.

On May 8, 2019, WECC received SAR WECC-0140 requesting cyclical review of the WECC Reliability Standards Development Procedures (Procedures).

Per the Procedures supported by the WSC Charter, the WSC is charged with oversight and maintenance of the Procedures. This SAR meets the cyclical review requirement and will specifically: 1) incorporate WECC Guideline – Responses to Comments Received During Ballot, 2) incorporate WECC Guideline – Drafting Team Assignments, and 3) update the document template. This project will generally review all aspects of the Procedures to enhance readability.
