

RRC Steering Committee CIMTF Disband

February 29, 2024

Steve Ashbaker, WECC
Reliability Initiatives Director

CIMTF History

- Initial conversations to create a task force—late 2016 to early 2017
- Scope of work
 - Find and agree to a common definition, structure, method, or configuration of CIM for entities within WECC to exchange network models
- Participation and engagement an issue from the onset
 - Meeting quorum requirements due to lack of participation; unable to have official meetings and take any action
- Periodic meetings for several years—information and networking only, with no real products produced

CIMTF History

- Canceled meetings for various reasons
- Task force leadership a challenge
- May 2023—Created a survey seeking input on the relevance and future of CIMTF
 - Issued survey to the task force, 5/22, 5/25, and 6/5
 - Received responses from two members (no real urgency to continue; disband the group; consider possible forum construct; transfer to CAISO; no identified issues if group discontinued)
- Network model information currently being shared with applicable Reliability Coordinators and RC West for development of the West-wide Model

CIMTF Disband Recommendation

Resolved, that the Reliability Risk Committee, at its meeting on February 29, 2024, hereby retires the Common Information Model Task Force and its charter.
