Greetings,

Tacoma Power does not have any applicable facilities that meet the following criteria to be reported for 2026 Annual Progress Reports.

- All generation projects (200 MW or greater) connected to the transmission system through step-up transformers. In the context of these policies and procedures, such projects include at a minimum new generation plants currently in levels one or two, generation repower or upgrades that may significantly alter the operation of the generation facilities.
- All new and upgraded transmission facilities with (voltage levels over 200 kV). Such projects include, but are not limited to, new transmission facilities, transmission re-designs or upgrades, permanent removal of existing transmission facilities, or other changes (e.g., operating procedures) that may significantly alter the operation of the transmission facilities.
- Any facilities below these thresholds that may have a significant impact on the reliability of the Western Interconnection.

Thank you,
